How the Kenton Group uses cookies

Cookies are used for a variety of things that help improve your online experience.

The way we make our online service easier to use include using cookies that:

make login faster by remembering your customer details.

make the page load quickly by sharing the workload across computers.

give you access to self-help information.

make sure our pages are optimised for your browser or device by giving us technical information about the device or browser you are using.

Personal preferences

Cookies can help give you content that matches your preferences. We might give you relevant offers because we know what other offers you liked. They also allow you to customise a page.

Safety and security

Some cookies help make sure your information is secure when using our services while keeping our forms and shopping site easy to use.

Improving our service

To make sure you do not see particular adverts or announcements too many times we use a cookie to limit their frequency.

We also use cookies to measure and analyse how visitors use the site. This helps us develop it and make it easier to use.

First-party cookies

The Kenton Group works with Flashtalking to serve advertising creative. The Company may place 1st party cookies on your machine to provide more relevant ad messages.

These cookies are anonymous and will not collect personally identifiable information.

Third-party cookies

The Kenton Group works with a number of companies and websites that help make sure our adverts, promotions and marketing messages are displayed to people who might be interested. These companies and partners may use cookies to collect anonymous data such as how many people have viewed a particular page each day.
